

They come from all around with a desire to meet The Oracle. After one drink you see things as you wish they were. Another drop, you see things as they are not. Finally, you see things as they truly are. Beware weary traveller for all is not as it seems.. The guests who believe they cannot be deceived are in great danger; for all magicians know that the mind, not the eye, is where the deception lies. Your time has finally come to meet The Oracle

"I control luck" cawed the magpie. "Then you are sure to win" said the fox as he dealt the final hand. The magpie bet his favourite shiny shilling and chortled as he turned over his winning cards. "But I have the four aces" exclaimed the fox. The magpie couldn't believe it and flew closer to investigate the foxes claim. The fox leapt up and gobbled the magpie down. Never trust a deceiver around the card table; for it is cunning, not luck, that decides.

My dearest friend,

I must insist that you do not ask your host about the drink they call 'The Poison Chalice'. I can resist everything but temptation and during these trying times, my desires have once again defeated me. Curiosity led to this delirious morning and I urge you to stay away with all your might. I once wept for those with the misfortune to encounter nothing but water during their days, but now I anxiously await the news that you have, as expected, not learned from my mistakes.

Faithfully, yours

Benjamin
